Consulting & Research

PSI's Consulting and Research division has conducted over 25 child support demonstration, research and management studies, spanning 20 states and the federal government. We have also conducted demonstration projects and evaluations for other human service programs such as AFDC, Food Stamps, WIC (Women, Infant and Child Supplemental Food Program), and public housing. In addition to these research and demonstration projects, PSI has performed child support management assessments for six states and numerous technical assistance projects. These technical assistance contracts have variously involved performance assessment, statutory preparation, policy and procedures development, specialized training, and legislative testimony.

We offer nationally known experts in every aspect of child support enforcement, as well as public welfare, health, child welfare, court systems and employment programs. Let our experts help guide you in:

- in-hospital and voluntary paternity establishment
- management and staffing analyses
- procedures and guidelines development
- administrative process
- review and modification
- centralized payment processing
- training
- strategic planning and analysis
- customer services
- outreach
