Violence in the Child's Life: At Home, At School and on the Streets

Proceedings from three days of public hearings convened by CE in October, 1993. The testimony of children and adults is riveting. Features excerpts of testimony, along with sections on the nature of violence in America today, approaches to the treatment of violence, and action needed. Also includes community programs that are working to counter the effects of violence. ($10.00/copy, including shipping and handling)

"When I went to school and was with my friends, I realized that other kids' dads didn't beat them. Other kids' dads didn't hate them...I grew up in an environment where abuse was a daily event. A day without a beating was a good day. A day without verbal abuse never occurred." Deborah Derby, 18, Socorro (NM)

"I want to do what I can to give children an opportunity to contribute. There is so much that we can do on the streets of America, galvanizing the tremendous energy and the great desire of young people in America to contribute, to be somebody, to be part of making America a better place." Janet Reno, US Attorney General
